Report on online seven day FDP on How to write a Research Paper

Organized by: IQAC, Shivaji Shikshan Sanstha's Science & Commerce College Night

Dates: January 6, 2024 - January 12, 2024

Resource Person: Dr. Piyush Anam

Participants: 10 Teaching Faculty Members

The Seven-Day Faculty Development Program (FDP) on "How to Write a Research Paper," organized by IQAC, Shivaji Shikshan Sanstha's Science & Commerce College Night, conducted online from January 6 to January 12, 2024, was designed to help faculty members improve their research writing skills. The workshop, led by Dr. Piyush Anam, an academic research and writing expert, covers important topics such as research paper introductions, literature reviews, research methods, paper structuring, writing strategies, referencing, and the publication process. Interactive workshops, practical exercises, and group discussions were among the key activities that helped students gain a thorough understanding of all aspects of research paper writing. The FDP resulted in considerable improvements in drafting, structuring, and rewriting research articles, as well as navigating the publishing process. Participants were really satisfied with the material and delivery, particularly the practical help provided.

Prof. Gajendra Shukla concluded the program with a vote of thanks, recognizing the FDP's effective attainment of its aims and its good impact on participants' future research activities.

Report on five day online FDP on Stress Management for Teaching and Non-Teaching

From November 5 to November 9, 2023, the IQAC of Shivaji Shikshan Sanstha's Science & Commerce College Night hosted an informative Five-Day Online Faculty Development Programme (FDP) on "Stress Management for Teaching and Non-Teaching Staff." This FDP was led by Asst. Prof. Manoj Nahak and Mr. Suresh Rao, who presented expert advice and practical stress management tactics in both personal and professional environments. The program included 11 participants, including nine teaching professors and two non-teaching staff members, all of whom actively participated in the sessions.

The program of study included a wide range of stress management subjects, such as identifying stressors, understanding their influence on well-being, and developing effective coping strategies. Asst. Prof. Nahak and Mr. Rao used a number of interactive strategies, such as stress-reduction exercises, mindfulness practices, and practical workshops, to provide participants with tools for dealing with workplace stress. The FDP sought not only to develop individual stress management abilities, but also to create a supportive climate inside the institution. Attendees reported great satisfaction with the practical advice and tactics presented, which are intended to improve their overall resilience and work-life balance. Vote of thanks was delivered by Mrs. Dimpal Singh, emphasis on the important highlights from the FDP.

Report on Five Day FDP on Workshop on PYTHON Programming

From October 7 to October 11, 2023, the IQAC of Shivaji Shikshan Sanstha's Science & Commerce College Night organized an engaging Five-Day Faculty Development Program (FDP) titled "Workshop on PYTHON Programming," directed by the eminent resource person Ms. Pooja Rasam. The online (Zoom) session sought to provide participating teaching faculty with fundamental and advanced Python programming abilities, highlighting the growing importance of coding skills in academia and other professional domains. Throughout the program, Ms. Rasam led five faculty members through an intensive curriculum that included an introduction to Python, hands-on coding activities, and practical Python applications in data analysis and problem solving.

The FDP addressed a wide range of topics, from basic Python syntax and programming concepts to more advanced applications, allowing participants to improve their computational thinking and programming skills. Interactive discussions and practical exercises gave participants great experience developing and debugging code, promoting a better grasp of Python's variety and utility. The workshop not only improved the participants' technical skills, but also prepared them to incorporate programming concepts into their teaching methodologies, thereby contributing to their professional development and the advancement of their students' learning experiences in a rapidly changing technological environment.

Report on Five Days FDP(Online) on Communication & Presentation Skills as the way to Excellence in Teaching.

The IQAC of Shivaji Shikshan Sanstha's Science & Commerce College Night, organized a focused and impactful Online Five-Day Faculty Development Program (FDP) on "Communication & Presentation Skills as the Way to Excellence in Teaching," featuring a distinguished panel of resource persons including Dr. Sushil Joshi, Mr. Steave Pillai, and Ms. Sonia Malshekar, from August 3 to August 7, 2023. The FDP, which was designed to improve the pedagogical efficacy of teaching faculty, gathered a total of eight participants who attended intense training sessions focused at honing their communication and presenting abilities. Participants in the program learned about numerous facets of effective communication, such as the art of entertaining presentations, strategies for clear and convincing messaging, and classroom interaction and engagement techniques.

Dr. Joshi discussed advanced communication tactics and their application in educational settings, Mr. Pillai focused on interactive presentation approaches and visual aids, and Ms. Malshekar led practical exercises and feedback sessions to help participants improve their skills. The FDP not only improved participants' ability to deliver knowledge more effectively, but it also empowered them to create more dynamic and compelling learning environments, which contributed considerably to their professional development and overall teaching quality.
