Report on Faculty Exchange Programme

On February 4th, 2024, the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of NKES College, Wadala collaborated with Shivaji Shikshan Sanstha's College of Science & Commerce, to host a one-day teacher exchange event. The program's objectives were to promote inter-institutional sharing of teaching strategies and academic collaboration.

Asst. Prof. Manoj Nahak represented our institution at NKES College as part of this endeavour. The main goal of Prof. Manoj talk was to improve students' learning experiences by using innovative teaching techniques and subject-specific knowledge. The faculty members were able to interact with students from diverse academic backgrounds and the interchange promoted the exchange of ideas.

Students and professors at NKES College expressed satisfaction with the interactive session. In addition to offering a chance for professional development, this exchange program enhanced the intellectual links between the two universities.

All things considered, the program was a huge success and strengthened our resolve to use cooperative efforts to raise the standard of education. The IQAC anticipates more successful meetings of this nature in the future.

Minutes of meeting

1. Mr. Yuvraj Herode, the chairperson, greeted each member and expressed appreciation for their dedication to raising the standard of higher education.
2. The introduction of IQAC members was the first topic on the agenda. Each participant gave a brief overview of their responsibilities and areas of expertise during their introduction. After giving a heartfelt welcoming speech, the chairperson expressed hope for a successful academic year to come. Mr. Santosh Shirke made a motion to approve the proposition, which Dr. Vijay Herode seconded. The plan was accepted by all in favour.
3. The second agenda item involved the review and approval of the minutes from the last IQAC meeting. The Action Taken Report on decisions made during the previous meeting was presented, and after discussion, the minutes were duly approved.
4. The group then moved into a discussion of the goals that the IQAC had set for the upcoming academic year. Members discussed any alterations or additions to make sure the objectives matched the institutional priorities as of right now. Dr. Vijay Herode made the idea, and Mr. Santosh Shirke seconded it. The proposition was approved. The plan was accepted by all in favour.
5. The IQAC then turned its attention to the forthcoming year's academic schedule. We encouraged suggestions for enhancements or changes, highlighting the importance of efficiency and coherence in the planning of academic activities. Mr. Santosh Shirke moved to approve the proposal, and Dr. Vijay Herode seconded the motion. There was unanimous approval of the proposition.
6. A summary of current internal quality assurance programs was given, and discussions and updates on the procedures for external accreditation and quality evaluation took place. The organization reiterated its commitment to upholding high standards in administration, research, and teaching. Mr. Santosh Shirke moved to approve the proposal, and Dr. Vijay Herode seconded the motion. The entire majority were in favor of the plan.
7. The best practices were identified and shared throughout the meeting. Members exchanged effective strategies for administration, research, and teaching, opening the door for the development of new best practices. Mr. Santosh Shirke moved to approve the proposal, and Dr. Vijay Herode seconded the motion. The entire majority were in favour of the plan.
8. The main topic of the next agenda was determining the staff and faculty's training needs. A plan for training courses, seminars, and workshops was considered; these fit well with the institution's commitment to ongoing professional development. Mr. Santosh Shirke moved to approve the proposal, and Dr. Vijay Herode seconded the motion. The entire majority were in favour of the plan.
9. The creation of quality improvement plans based on institutional goals and the AQAR was the last item on the agenda. The assigning of responsibilities and deadlines for the

Minutes of meeting

1. In his welcome address, Mr. Yuvraj Herode, the chairperson, thanked each member present online for their dedication to raising the standard of higher education.
2. IQAC members were introduced as the first item on the agenda. Each participant gave a brief overview of their responsibilities and areas of expertise during their introduction. After extending a hearty greeting, the chairperson expressed hope for an academic year filled with success. Mr. Alok Singh moved to approve the proposition, and Mr. Amaresh Patra seconded it. There was unanimous approval of the proposition.
3. The approval and evaluation of the minutes from the previous IQAC meeting was the subject of the second agenda item. Following the presentation of the Action Taken Report regarding decisions reached at the previous meeting, the minutes were officially approved.
4. The chairperson gave an update on how well the college's online operations were doing in spite of the COVID-19 crisis. The discussion revolved around the continuation of lectures during the lockdown and the platform to be used for online teaching and learning.
5. The IQAC then turned its attention to the forthcoming year's academic calendar. The importance of coherence and efficiency in the scheduling of academic activities was emphasized in the call for suggestions for changes or enhancements. Mr. Alok Singh moved to approve the proposal, and Mr. Amaresh Patra seconded the motion. The plan was accepted by all in favor.
6. Updates on the processes for external certification and quality evaluation were discussed, along with a summary of current internal quality assurance programs. The organization reiterated its commitment to upholding high standards in administration, research, and teaching. Mr. Amaresh Patra made the idea, and Mr. Alok Singh seconded it. The proposal was approved. All votes were in favor of the plan.
7. The best practices were identified and shared throughout the meeting. Members exchanged effective strategies for administration, research, and teaching, opening the door for the development of new best practices. Mr. Amaresh Patra made the idea, and Mr. Alok Singh seconded it. The proposal was approved. All votes were in favor of the plan.
8. The main topic of the next agenda was determining the staff and faculty's training needs. A plan for training courses, seminars, and workshops was considered; these fit well with the institution's commitment to ongoing professional development. Mr. Amaresh Patra made the idea, and Mr. Alok Singh seconded it. The proposal was approved. There was unanimous approval of the proposition.
9. The creation of quality improvement plans based on institutional goals and the AQAR was the last item on the agenda. The assignment of responsibilities and deadlines for
